

Whats in the Stores?

Neurodiversity in Social History

1

Literature

Hank Zipzer (Henry Winkler), Percy Jackson and the Lightning Thief, Sally Gardner (award winning author), Jacqueline Wilson, Dyslexia Friendly print, Roald Dahl: Vicar of Nibblewicke

2

Education

Mirror Writing, Overlays, Spelling Games, Sentence construction kits, Initial Teaching Assessment flashcards and books, Seandar Reading Scheme, Dunce Hat, Punishment book for hyperactivity

3

Technology

Early Personal Assistants, Speak and Spell, Sat Navs, Portable Spell Checkers, early software for Mindmapping, Dragonspeak, Smart Pens, tape recorders in children. Reports: focus and effort, Co-ordination exercises in P.E.

5

Treatment

Omega 3 for focus and concentration, diet, bleach, repetitive physical exercise

4

Archives

Mirror Writing, handwriting style, hyperactivity in hospital records, evidence on illiteracy (his/her mark: practical hands on trades in 19th century, medical reports, school reports

'Museum of the Labelled' Project is supported by Disability Co-operative Network

For further information contact: Jess Starns dyspraxicme@gmail.com or Becki Morris info@musedcn.org.uk @museumDCN www.musedcn.org.uk